The Claude Code brief

Fill this in before you start a build. If you can't fill a line, you're not ready to build yet.

01 Who is it for?

One sentence: the visitor, and what they already tried.

02 The one action

Book a call, join the list, or buy. Pick one.

03 Sections, in order

Top to bottom, one line each. A safe default: hero, proof, how it works, offer, FAQ, call to action.

04 Real copy

Paste the actual headline, the actual offer and the actual price. Rough is fine. Placeholder text gives you placeholder pages.

05 Visual rules

Two fonts, a few colours, one accent, a spacing scale. Save them in a file the agent reads every session (for example DESIGN.md).

06 Done when

It works at 375px wide, every button goes somewhere, and the form reaches your inbox.

PASTE-READY PROMPT

You are building one page for [who it's for].
The only action is [the one action].
Sections in order: [sections].
Use this exact copy: [real copy].
Follow the visual rules in DESIGN.md.
Do not add sections, links or features I did not list.
Before you say you're done, check the page at 375px wide and list anything that doesn't work.
